HELLO FRIEND

We're Glo & Dave

At Bellamy Productions, we believe in one simple truth:

Love recognizes love.

For us, photography is about connection. Every family has a story worth preserving, and every chapter deserves to be remembered with honesty, intention, and heart.

Outside of photography, we're raising our two daughters, Bella and Fae, exploring the North Carolina coast, spending time outdoors, and embracing all the little moments that come with raising a family. We know just how quickly life changes—and how often the moments you'll miss tomorrow are the ones that feel ordinary today.

That's what inspires the way we photograph.

Whether you're celebrating the anticipation of welcoming a new baby or chasing little feet along the shoreline, we're always looking beyond the pose. We notice the tiny fingers wrapped around yours, the spontaneous laughter, the comforting hugs, the windswept hair, and the quiet glances that remind you just how much love lives in this season.

Those are the moments that tell the real story.

Truly a 10/10 experience! Wow- Glo & Dave really exceeded my expectations. Between a super windy beach day & trying to get a 2 & 3 year old to cooperate for family photos- they somehow captured SO many beautiful moments. They have gone above & beyond to ensure our photos turned out how we wanted. I would definitely work with them again!!

We had such a wonderful experience with Glo and Dave! From the very beginning, they were professional, punctual, and so easy to connect with, which made the whole process feel effortless and fun. They went above and beyond to make sure every detail was perfect, and it truly shows in our photos—we absolutely love how they turned out! These are memories we'll treasure forever. We can't recommend them enough for any type of photography—you'll be in the best hands.
